

Notice of Privacy Practices

(Effective Date 03/01/2003)

Revised 9/9/13

This notice describes how your medical information may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information. Please review this notice carefully.

I. UNDERSTANDING YOUR HEALTH RECORD/INFORMATION

When you visit Lutheran Family Services of Nebraska, Inc. (“Agency”) or other health care providers, a record of your visit is made. Typically, this record contains your symptoms, diagnosis and your treatment plan for future care. This information, often referred to as your case record, serves as a basis for planning your care and treatment. Your health information is also used by third-party payers to verify that billed services were provided.

II. USES AND DISCLOSURES

The Agency will not disclose your health information without your authorization, except as described in this notice.

Treatment - The Agency will use your health information for treatment; for example, information obtained by a therapist/worker will be recorded in your record and used to determine the course of treatment. Your therapist/worker and other health care professionals will communicate with one another personally and through the case record to coordinate care provided. You may receive more than one service (program) during your treatment period with such information shared between programs.

Payment - The Agency will use your health information for payment for services rendered. For example, a bill may be sent to you or a third-party payer. The information on or accompanying the bill may include information that identifies you, as well as your diagnosis and treatment procedures. The Agency will not use or disclose more information for payment purposes than is necessary. We are accountable to the Secretary of Health and Human Services to safeguard (keep secure) and protect (keep private) our patients’ information.

Health Care Operations - The Agency will use your health information for health care operations. For example, Agency therapist, workers, supervisors and support staff may use information in your case record to assess the care and outcomes of your case and others like it. This information will then be used in an effort to continually improve the quality and effectiveness of services we provide. Regulatory and accrediting organizations may review your case record to ensure compliance with their requirements.

Notification - In an emergency, the Agency may use or disclose health information to notify or assist in notifying a family member, personal representative or another person responsible for your care, of your location and general condition.

Workers’ Compensation - The Agency may disclose health information to the extent authorized by and to the extent necessary to comply with laws relating to workers’ compensation or other similar programs established by the law.

Public Health - As required by federal and state law, the Agency may disclose your health information to public health or legal authorities charged with preventing or controlling disease, injury or disability.

Law Enforcement - As required by federal and state law, the Agency will notify authorities of alleged abuse/neglect; and risk or threat of harm to self or others. We may disclose health information for law enforcement purposes as required by law or in response to a valid subpoena.

Correctional Institution - Should you be an inmate of a correctional institution, the Agency may disclose to the institution, or agents thereof, health information necessary for your health and the health and safety of other individuals.

Charges against the Agency - In the event you should file suit against the Agency, the Agency may disclose health information necessary to defend such action.

Duty to Warn - When a client communicates to the Agency a serious threat of physical violence against himself, herself or a reasonably identifiable victim or victims, the Agency will notify either the threatened person(s) and/or law enforcement.

The Agency may also contact you about appointment reminders, treatment alternatives or for public relations activities.

In any other situation, the Agency will request your written authorization before using or disclosing any identifiable health information about you. If you choose to sign such authorization to disclose information, you can revoke the authorization to stop any future uses and disclosures by providing that request in writing.
